Case referrals relate only to those referrals which were finalised during the calendar year. Cases which were still being processed have not been included. Prior to 1997, Crime and Justice reports did not include cases where the conference was held but either there was no admission or the case was not proceeded with. Nor did they report on cases where a conference was not actually held. (See Appendix for more details.) * Prior to 2000, some outcomes now recorded as a 'formal caution' were listed under 'no action'. As well, there was a different recording practice for those cases where the matter was re-referred to a conference after having been initially referred back to the police because the young person could not be located. For further information, see the Appendix.

Racial identity is, in the first instance, derived from police apprehension reports which record the opinion of the apprehending police officer as to the appearance of the apprehended person. If "race" is missing from the police file sent to them, the Family Conference Team will add this information where possible. They may also amend police entries which they consider to be incorrect. Prior to 1997, Crime and Justice reports did not include cases where the conference was held but either there was no admission or the case was not proceeded with. Nor did they report on cases where a conference was not actually held. (See Appendix for more details.) See footnote for Table 3.1 for details of changes to the practice of recording some outcomes.

* For details of the offences contained in these categories refer to Appendix. Age is at date of offence. This table does not include cases in the category of 'Conference not held' as detailed in Tables 3.1 – 3.3. Racial identity is, in the first instance, derived from police apprehension reports which record the opinion of the apprehending police officer as to the appearance of the apprehended person. If "race" is missing from the police file sent to them, the Family Conference Team will add this information where possible. They may also amend police entries which they consider to be incorrect.

Prior to 2002, apologies included both verbal and written apologies. However, following a review of the Young Offenders Act, 1993 by the Chief Justice, this was changed. A 'letter of regret' was introduced, which was deemed the same as a written apology for processing purposes. Verbal apologies can still occur, but are now regarded as different from the 'letters of regret'. Because this change was not introduced until mid 2002, 'letters of regret' were combined with verbal apologies in previous reports. The 2003 report is the first time they have been reported on separately.

The counting rule used in this table is different from that used in the earlier set of tables on conditions (Tables 3.9 –3.13). See Appendix for more details. Prior to 2002, apologies included both verbal and written apologies. However, following a review of the Young Offenders Act, 1993 by the Chief Justice, this was changed. A 'letter of regret' was introduced, which was deemed the same as a written apology for processing purposes. Verbal apologies can still occur, but are now regarded as different from the 'letters of regret'. Because this change was not introduced until mid 2002, 'letters of regret' were combined with verbal apologies in previous reports. The 2003 report was the first time they have been reported on separately.

The counting rule used in this table is different from that used in the earlier set of tables on conditions (Tables 3.9 –3.13). (See Appendix for more details.)

Racial identity is, in the first instance, derived from police apprehension reports which record the opinion of the apprehending police officer as to the appearance of the apprehended person. If "race" is missing from the police file sent to them, the Family Conference Team will add this information where possible. They may also amend police entries which they consider to be incorrect.

Prior to 2002, apologies included both verbal and written apologies. However, following a review of the Young Offenders Act, 1993 by the Chief Justice, this was changed.

A "letter of regret" was introduced, which was deemed the same as a written apology for processing purposes. Verbal apologies can still occur, but are now regarded as different from the "letters of regret". This table refers to the actual number of conferences held. Youth Justice Coordinators and police representatives are not classified here as participants. Prior to 2001, the data did not distinguish between victim representatives and victim supporters. Both groups were included under the category of 'victim supporters'. Nor did the data distinguish between parents and guardians. The category of 'parents' covered both these groups. In addition, in previous years, the total number of participants did not include participants classified under 'other'. This category covers participants such as the school principal in cases where the offence occurred at a school and the Metropolitan Fire Service where arson has been involved.
